Welcome to our Newsletter November 2017 edition! December is near, and we are glad that our students are about to finish their mid-term examinations. We hope that you all gave your best to score good marks in your respective subjects.

Top Stories of the Month

For the third time, our students have a very special opportunity to talk directly with leading scientists from different countries. The main topic of the dialogue between experts and the audience was "Project Approach in Education: Russian and International Experience." The professors shared how educational technologies are developing in the world's most prestigious universities.

Are you a student of MISiS? Do you want to learn Russian language or want to improve your English? On November 10 at 6:00 p.m. in the Hall of Dom-Kommuny, the International Friendship Club with the support of the Student Council of the dormitory Dom-Kommuny organized a screening of the film "Mandela: Long Walk to Freedom." The film was in Russian with English subtitles. ☑
Do not miss the opportunity to spend Friday evening gainfully with our international family! We are waiting for you.
Come and bring your friends!!!

October 30, our university held an open meeting, which was actively attended by NUST MISiS students. Every semester, students, teachers, workers, and the administration of the university have gathered in one place to discuss aspects of student life that require special attention and improvement.

International Horizon

Attention:

Visa & Registration: All students are requested to check your visas and registration slips regularly and visit the International Office a month prior to its expiration. Whenever you have questions regarding your visa, you are strongly encouraged to come to the International Office. Details: <http://en.misis.ru/campus-life/regulations/>

Dormitory: All students are required to pay your dormitory fees on time.

We are pleased to say that many of our scientists are contributing in the field of science around the globe.

Every semester, MISIS arranges several lectures/seminars in which its students share their ongoing research with their fellow students. This is an excellent opportunity for students to find out more about on-going research, explore new topics, ask questions, and share ideas. Details: <http://en.misis.ru/>

October 28, The International Friendship Club carried out student debates on the topic of "Online Education." Traditionally, the event was fully in English so that even the most reserved participants were involved in speaking practice.

Post-Soviet Russia no longer celebrates the anniversary of the 1917 Revolution as a national holiday. However, this year will mark the 100th anniversary and this is a good moment to look back on the causes and the results of the most important event in Russia's XX century history. On the anniversary, time capsules were revealed. They were created for future communists during the USSR period and preserved in several places around the country.

The 8th All-Russian Forum YouLead-2017 was held at NUST MISIS. The main theme was: "Take a step beyond the horizon!" The forum was organized by the Career Center of NUST MISIS together with the youth organization AIESEC. Experts gave master classes on the development of key skills necessary to build a successful and rewarding career. Details: <http://www.misis.ru/university/news/life/2017-11/5009/>

Thought of the Month:

"It is a thousand times better to have common sense without education than to have education without common sense."

Student Services Hours - Have something to discuss or want to talk privately? The International Office holds office hours every Monday afternoon from 2:30PM to 4:00PM.
